

T-Sport is one of the most respected and successful UK F3 teams competing in the FIA, but, unlike the competition, Formula 3 is their core business – the team are 100 per cent dedicated to their Formula 3 programme.

Drivers racing with T-Sport get the full benefit of championship-winning engineers, a former F3 Champion and professional sportscar racer as driver coach and a pedigree which offers the very best development for racers aspiring to compete in Formula One

The Team firmly believe in the best range of Engine, gear oils & assembly lubricants which is why the team rely on Red Line products to ensure their impressive race performance is without compromise at every event across Europe, as Alan Woodhead explains:

“We have been using Red Line products purchased through Old Hall Performance for the last 8 seasons of racing and can contribute much of our impressive reliability and performance down to the first class products that Red Line produce and sell”
