

THE EXCLUSIVE PERFORMANCE EXHAUST — OF — NASCAR

Leading exhaust technology brand Flowmaster is now the Exclusive Performance Exhaust of NASCAR. Old Hall Performance believes this only strengthens the appeal of the range which they are introducing to Europe. An iconic performance exhaust company that was born on a circle track three decades ago by a racer looking to optimize performance while controlling sound, and protecting the sport and local tracks. Those racing roots led to the technology utilized in Flowmaster's best-selling car and truck mufflers and exhaust systems today.

From NASCAR to Europe Flowmaster is being used in every automotive and motorsport application, Brisca F1 stock cars where the products are tested to the ultimate extremes and only the best will do, or classic formula cars such as a Gerhard Berger Formula 3 where performance is key. The unique technology in Flowmaster mufflers reduces sound and increases power thanks to the patented exhaust gas scavenging design. The muffler bounces sound together cancelling out the high pitch tones that are unwanted in any application, because no wadding or packing material is used the muffler it never needs re-packing or servicing.
